

Camping and Occupancy Regulations

Tres Rios Field Office and Canyons of the Ancients National Monument, Colorado

The Bureau of Land Management welcomes campers who recreate on their public lands. Public lands are not intended for establishing and maintaining residency. Rules and regulations specifically prohibit residence on public lands.

BLM Camping and Occupancy Regulations include but are not limited to the following:

43 CFR 8365.1-6: Violation of supplementary rule (75 FR 32968):

- 14-day Camping Limit within a 30-day period.
 - After 14 days, must move at least 30 air miles.
 - Personal property or refuse must not be left behind when vacating the campsite, to include property to be used by another user.
 - Property must not be left unattended for more than 48 hours.
 - You must not establish occupancy, take possession of, or otherwise use public lands for residential purposes.
- (Camping is for recreational purposes only)
- If the area charges fees, fees must be paid within 30 minutes of entering the fee area.
 - You must not violate any state or county laws or regulations relating to public health, safety, sanitation, building or fire codes while camping, occupying, or using public lands.

Camping is defined as – Erecting of a tent or shelter of natural or synthetic material; preparing a sleeping bag or other bedding material for use; parking of a motor vehicle, motor home or trailer; or mooring of a vessel for the apparent purpose of overnight occupancy while engaged in recreational activities such as hiking, hunting, fishing, bicycling, sightseeing, off-road vehicle activities, or other generally recognized forms of recreation.

Occupancy is defined as – Full or part-time residence on public lands for non-recreational purposes, such as temporary residence in connection with, or while seeking, employment in the vicinity, or because another permanent residence is not available. It also means activities that involve residence, such as the construction, presence, or maintenance of temporary or permanent structures that may be used for such purposes, or the use of a watchman or caretaker for the purpose of monitoring activities. Residence or structures include, but are not limited to, barriers to access, fences, tents, motor homes, trailers, cabins, houses, buildings, and storage of equipment or supplies.

43 CFR 4140.1(b)(6); 43 CFR 8365.1-1(b): Sanitation/Dumping/Littering:

- Camps must be kept clean and free of litter and trash.

43 CFR 9212: Fire Prevention:

- Fires must not be left unattended.
- Fires must be completely extinguished when leaving camp. Make sure fire is cold out, use water!
